

Dear Brookline Community,

First, we'd like to thank and commend all of you that have given patience, help and encouragement during these very challenging times. As you know, the COVID-19 public health challenge has caused us to adjust our path forward. Below you will find information intended to help keep our students, faculty, staff and community updated.

- Remote workforce transition – Brookline has moved quickly to offer our faculty and staff options and resources to work remotely.
 - Our campuses currently remain open and available as a resource to students. Limited faculty and staff are on site. Note: All persons entering a campus must agree to have a body temperature screening prior to entry. Anyone exhibiting a fever or flu-like symptoms will not be allowed to enter.
 - Many Brookline employees have shifted to remote work in the last week.
 - Brookline continues to be proactive at our campuses in recommended preventative sterilization, reducing group gatherings, social distancing, and staff updates.
 - Should it become necessary to move temporarily to a fully remote workforce model by circumstance or government decree, we are confident Brookline will do so without disrupting business operations or student academic progress.
- Non-Nursing Students - All non-nursing courses will start on Monday in the online format. All brand-new students starting with Brookline College will report to the campus Monday at 8am or 6pm for their first day. This is to ensure that you receive your materials and are able to access the classroom. All other non-nursing students should log into your course through Moodle.
 - You can find the student login here – student login
 - It is also available in the navigation bar on <https://brooklinecollege.edu> under STUDENT/FACULTY LOGIN – this will be in the upper right hand corner of your standard browser.
 - We understand that some of you who had planned on attending the campus will be taking online courses for the first time. We will have a team ready to assist you no matter how small the question or issue, so PLEASE DON'T HESITATE TO CONTACT US.

BROOKLINE COLLEGE

Small College. Big Future.

- Physical Therapy Assistant Students will attend your regularly scheduled classes online. You will have the lecture portion of your courses for the next two weeks in this format. Please contact your instructor or Program Director with any questions or concerns.
 - Jane Jackson, Program Director – jackson@brooklinecollege.edu
 - John Lawler, Academic Clinical Coordinator – lawler@brooklinecollege.edu
 - Michael Strickland, Faculty – strickland@brooklinecollege.edu
- MLT/MLS Students will attend your regularly scheduled classes online. You will have the lecture and lab portion of your classes online for the next two weeks. The labs will be conducted in a simulation format. Please contact your Program Director with any questions.
 - Roger Beckering, Program Director – beckering@brooklinecollege.edu
- Students on Externship- this will be handled in a program specific manner as many are not allowed to do this in a virtual manner. For those who are permitted, you may choose to do so. If your program is eligible, under the regulatory and accreditation guidelines, you will receive notification by either the Program Director or Career Services team. The option to complete a virtual externship is the decision of each student and may be discussed with your program director or career services advisor.

Additional updates will continue to be communicated as they become available.

Again, thank you all. We look forward with great excitement to the upcoming start. Do not hesitate to contact us for information or assistance.
